Imbokodo Forum Women Leading Africa's Progress

The Pan African Women's Forum – "Imbokodo Forum" is a strategic initiative designed to amplify the voices of African women in leadership, advocacy, and socio-economic development. The forum aligns with the African Union's designation of Pan African Women's Month, making it a critical platform for dialogue, empowerment, and actionable solutions.

The forum's title, "Imbokodo", meaning "rock" in Zulu, symbolizes strength, resilience, and the unshakable role of African women in shaping societies. It reflects the famous South African anti-apartheid chant: "Wathint' Abafazi, Wathint' Imbokodo" (You strike a woman, you strike a rock), emphasizing the indomitable spirit of African women.

- Impact and Networks: Provide African women with the tools, networks, and knowledge to thrive in leadership, entrepreneurship, and governance.
- Foster Unity and Collaboration: Connect women from diverse backgrounds, sectors, and regions to exchange ideas and form alliances.
- Advocate for Policy Change: Engage policymakers and change agents to influence gender-inclusive policies that promote equality.
- Celebrate Achievements: Highlight the successes of African women across different industries and spheres, to recognize their contributions to the continent's progressand inspire continued cause for action
- Advancing Intra Africa Trade -The platform affords organsiations and entreprenuers to show case their product and service offering, as a consequence sales platform and partnerships sealed.
